ABOUT OUR HOME

Minerva is the Roman name for the Greek goddess Athena, who is seen as the goddess of wisdom, beauty and arts. We pride ourselves on being a diverse house where each resident can develop themselves to their full potential & build lifelong friendships.

Our residence is home to about 268 residents which now officially includes you. Our values are respect, proactivity, growth, balance and kindness.

Respect means giving due regard to the feelings, rights, and wishes of others while acknowledging our differences.

Fun fact :

You are “More than just a Matie” now and are officially “Simply the Best”.

We value pro-activity, where we intentionally strive for improvement by anticipating, learning, creating, and taking ownership of situations as active citizens within and beyond Minerva. Growth is encouraged through physical, mental, and spiritual development by exchanging opinions, reflecting on ourselves, and deepening our understanding of human experiences. We believe in balance — being culturally enriched through participation, learning from one another, and maintaining stability in all areas of life. Above all, we uphold kindness by being friendly, generous, and considerate, forming genuine relationships, and fostering a sense of safety and belonging.

Letter from the Residence Head

Dr. Melanie Petersen

Dear Minerva Newcomers of 2026

Welcome to your new living and learning space! As your Residence Head, I am absolutely thrilled to welcome you to Minerva – a place that will quickly become so much more than just where you live. It will become a community of sisters, friends, late-night study partners, and lifelong confidantes.

Right now, you might be feeling a wonderful mix of emotions – excitement, nervousness, anticipation, and perhaps uncertainty. Let me assure you: every single feeling you're experiencing is completely normal, and you are exactly where you're meant to be. You belong here, and we are eagerly waiting for you!

Minerva is special because of the incredible young women who call it home. Over the coming weeks, you'll meet housemates who will become your chosen family. You'll share meals in the dining hall with someone from a town you've never heard of, have meaningful conversations that last until late night, celebrate each other's victories, and support one another through challenges. These moments will shape not just your university experience, but who you become as a person.

Our welcoming programme has been thoughtfully designed with you in mind. We want you to feel safe, supported, and celebrated from the moment you arrive. You'll learn everything you need to know – from navigating campus to managing your laundry (yes, we'll cover that too!) – but more importantly, you'll discover the joy of being part of something bigger than yourself. You'll find your people, your place, and your confidence. I want you to know something important: support is always available within our house. Whether you need help finding your lecture venue, advice on managing homesickness, someone to celebrate good news with, or just a listening ear – we will be here for you. You just need to reach to out. Your well-being and success matter deeply to me and the leadership of this house and supporting you is not just a task or obligation; it's our privilege.

As you prepare for your arrival, I encourage you to come with an open heart and mind. Be ready to try new things, to step out of your comfort zone (even when it feels scary), and to embrace the beautiful diversity of perspectives and experiences your housemates will bring. Some of your most treasured university memories will come from the unexpected moments – the spontaneous dance parties, the shared midnight snacks, the heart-to-hearts that happen when you least expect them.

As Residence Head, it is my mission to help you grow into the best person you can be, ready to deal with real-world challenges when you eventually leave here. My role is not to solve every challenge you face, but to guide and support you as you develop the skills to address these challenges independently. This inevitably means that sometimes you will be stretched, and as Minervianers have come to know me, I always look for the learning moments in any and all situations. My hope for each one of you is that Minerva will become a living and learning space that will challenge, inspire, and transform you in ways you cannot yet imagine.

You are about to embark on an extraordinary journey, and I am so excited to walk alongside you. The skills you'll develop here – independence, resilience, empathy, and the ability to build meaningful relationships – will serve you for the rest of your life. But more than that, you'll discover strengths you didn't know you had and build friendships that will last forever.

In the coming days, you'll receive all the practical information about move-in details and what to bring. For now, just know this: you are welcomed, you are valued, and you are already part of our Minerva family.

I cannot wait to meet each and every one of you and to watch you flourish in this incredible community we'll build together.

With warmth and excitement,

Dr. P

"The first arrival is never just a place on a map, it's the moment your heart learns a new rhythm."

Dearest Newcomer,

Welcome to your latest adventure.

University is the first steps towards you chasing a dream and allowing yourself to experience something new. Something that you care about enough that it scares you to embark on. This journey will not be perfect and it will not be easy, but you will get through it and achieve things you never knew you could, and though I can't shield you from the trials and tribulations that may come, I can assure you that you are in no better place to be supported through it all. Our residence awaits you with open arms and open hearts, and is ready to catch you when the time comes.

The Minerva you will come to know will challenge you and encourage you to become your best self. You will meet people from different walks of life who will enrich your world view. You will meet the dearest of companions. Your life will be fuller than ever before. Get ready to be part of a community. Be warned we are a spirited bunch, with unwavering house pride. If you're open to her, Minerva will impart her wisdom on you, she will allow you to make art of the life you'll find here and you will grow into the person you are meant to become.

As your Primaria, I hold the greatest honour of being able to play such a vital role in your transition. To be someone you can trust and to guide you and this house this year. I can only hope that my leadership will inspire you to stare down life and have a larger than life attitude. For you to personify our values and become a true Minervianer. We will walk this journey together and you will never be alone.

So while you get ready to pack up your life, I urge to come ready for the most fun filled and engaging welcoming programme. Come ready to meet your people and get ready to leave your mark on us and to tap into the 'new rhythm' of the bosch.

See you soon,

With all my love and excitement,

Unakho Mpulu

Meet the Vice-Primaria

Anneri Swart

New Minervianers, Welcome!

I am so excited to meet you all during Welcoming! You are the next generation of Minervianers who will walk the wonderful passages of Minerva, proudly wear our iconic red, and one day shout our MIINERRRVAA chant with your whole chest. (Don't worry, you'll understand that reference soon enough)

I have the privilege of being your Vice-Primaria for 2026. I'm currently studying BSc Molecular Biology and Biotechnology, and yes... I am a complete genetics geek! If you ever want to talk CRISPR or PCR... I'm your girl. But as much as I love science, one thing that is close to my heart, is Minerva.

This residence is special. The Minervianers have built a community that is warm, supportive, spirited in the best way, and empowering. Being part of welcoming the next generation... you... is an honour I don't take lightly.

Welcoming is not just a time of activities and introductions. It's a moment of growth. A chance to step out of your comfort zone, meet people who might become your lifelong friends, discover new strengths in yourself, and fall in love with this amazing residence that you now get to call home.

I cannot wait to see you walk through our doors on day one...nervous, excited, curious...(Its ok I've been there as well) and watch you grow into confident young females who will one day leave Minerva with the same love that I have for this home.

It is truly such a privilege to walk this journey with you, and I promise:
You are in for a year filled with joy, community, and the best kind of buzz. Because Minerva isn't just a res. It's "simply the best." (You'll get that reference soon too)

I can't wait to meet you!

Anneri Swart

Meet the Strategic Advisor

Makwetja Mamabolo

Welcome Home

There are a series of events you will experience through the course of your life that define it. These moments happen sparsely and without warning. One day you will look back at your life and realise that becoming a Minervainer was one of those moments.

A few lucky people get the opportunity to experience residence life in a town like Stellenbosch and a select few of them have the privilege to be Minervianers. Minerva is a residence that prides itself on a strong value-based leadership structure where members of the residence are valued, respected, appreciated and celebrated. Each community on campus comes with its own unique culture and history yet no community's is as rich and alluring as Minerva's. Our welcoming programme is curated with the goal of introducing and acclimatising you to the greater campus and all it has to offer but more importantly to the start of your future and to your soon to be sisters that you will have the privilege to experience it with.

Female residences are places of laughter, love, fun, friendship but mostly sisterhood. Within these hallowed halls you will be given the opportunity to connect with others in ways you could never imagine. So, what may feel like nerves and anxiety in due time will be a long-forgotten memory replaced with moments of you will never forget with friends you will keep for the rest of your life. So, with an open heart and arms Minerva and I welcome you to your future.

Kindest of Regards,
Makwetja Mamabolo

Meet the Head Mentor

Kristin Blignaut

Welcome to Minerva. Welkom by Minerva. Wamkelekile eMinerva.

Congratulations on getting into the best female res on campus. I am privileged enough to have been able to call this place my home for the past three years and I am even more privileged to call it my home for my final year.

I remember the exact moment I got placed into Minerva - especially the mix of emotions that I felt. I remember being nervous about leaving home, worried that I might not make any friends and stressed about the change from High School to University. The nerves are normal! I promise you every single Minervianer felt it but I hope that alongside the nerves, you are excited. Minerva has brought me so much joy, adventures, memories and friendships! I can confidently say that will do the same for you!

As you embark on this new journey and open a new chapter in your life, my only wish is that Minerva may be a place that helps you grow into whomever you're destined to be. I know it may seem daunting now looking ahead without knowing what's coming, but know that we at Minerva are super excited to meet every single one of you, but more than that, we are here to stand beside you and guide you every step of the way! Nothing can ever be too daunting if we tackle it together.

The mentors here at Minerva, as well as myself, cannot wait to meet each and every one of you! We are here to support you through this journey of becoming a Matie and (even better) a Minervianer. We can't wait to welcome you home!

Much love,
Kristin Blignaut

WHAT IS WELCOMING?

The welcoming period is your university orientation. It is the time when you'll get to know Minerva, explore campus, and learn everything to settle into this new chapter of your life. It's designed to help you navigate university with confidence, and trust us... it's nothing like high school orientation.

You'll be supported every step of the way. The House Committee, mentors, and Residence Head will guide you throughout the entire process and are always ready to help with anything you need.

The welcoming programme is designed to be inclusive, engaging, and rooted in open-mindedness, respect, balance, and learning.

You'll meet other residences, take part in fun activities, and end off with Connect (Vensters) — a major showcase where paired residences perform short skits with dancing and a bit of acting. Don't stress about the moves; it's all about having fun. This year, we're partnered with Vesta.

When you arrive, Aphelele and Michaela will explain all the activities and guide you through how welcoming works.

MAKING THIS HOUSE A HOME

Move-in day comes with a few things to remember – and a few things to bring along. (Quick tip: make sure you're in comfy shoes, because you'll definitely be climbing plenty of stairs!) All newcomers, or first years, will be sharing a room with a roommate. This is why completing and emailing your personal questionnaire is essential; you'll receive it in the same email as this booklet. Your answers help us pair you with the most suitable roommate possible. Sharing a room is a meaningful part of residence life, and for many, it becomes the start of a great friendship. There's truly no need to feel nervous – arriving with an open mind and a willingness to connect is more than enough.

Your room will include:

- Two single or three-quarter beds
- Two desks + Two chairs
- Two cupboards
- Two bookshelves
- Two towel rails
- Curtains
- Two dustbins

Minerva Week

This is a week where the residents are given the opportunity to bond. Minerva week provides a platform to create unity between the different year groups. In past years, the week was a great success and it therefore set a fantastic tone for the rest of the year. This is also the week we show off our Togas on campus. For more cuteness click the link:

House Fund Dance

House Fund Dance is a laid-back, fun dress-up event where we dance the night away while raising money for our big House Dance. It is casual, it is lively and it is all for a good cause – we raise funds for Minervianers who cannot afford a ticket to the House Dance. Click the link to view a little throw back:

Stay-in-Weekend

Nothing brings people together quite like a full weekend under one roof. Stay-In-Weekend is Minerva's long-standing tradition where we spend three days in res enjoying movies, high teas, activities, and time to actually connect. If you have never heard of it, think of it as a relaxed, community-building weekend that feels a little like a throwback sleepover.

Derby Week

Every year each residence takes on the same competitor in a battle of trolley races, debating, trivia, hockey, netball and more. In the spirit of friendly competition, they prepare in anticipation and come out in numbers to bring their residence to victory. Minerva's competition is Heemsteede and as a result red and blue fills the streets and our dreams. We hope to display our passion for Minerva in term 3 in a fun and exhilarating derby week

House Dance

House Dance is our version of a Matric Dance, offering a formal evening where everyone dresses up and celebrates together. It's a memorable night marked by elegance, great music, and a chance for the Minerva community to come together in a truly special way.

GENERAL INFO/ FAQ:

What is Quota?

Quota refers to the funds placed on your student account that you can use for various on-campus services. This includes printing, laundry (washing machines and dryers), and booking meals in the dining hall. You'll manage all of your quota through the MySun portal – and you'll be guided through the process when you get here, so no need to stress.

What is COB?

COB is another type of funds loaded onto your student account. It's used to buy food at the Neelsie and works on a simple tap-and-go system using your student card. Like quota, COB is also managed through the MySun portal. Some bursaries provide two separate amounts – one for quota and one for COB – which will appear individually on your student account.

Does my room get cleaned?

We have a cleaning company and staff who clean the bathrooms and communal spaces. They will also clean (sweep, mop and dust) your room twice a week. If your room is a mess, don't expect them to clean. The cleaning company does not clean up bodily fluids such as vomit and blood therefore it is your responsibility to ensure you clean up your mess

Where can I store things, like empty suitcases?

You can keep these in your room or use one of Minerva's storerooms. However, there is limited space and you store your things completely at your own risk.

May my significant other sleep over?

We do not allow males or females to have sleepovers at our residence as it is a safety risk. However, there is a visitors policy that gets voted in by the house and we make use of that to regulate visiting times and rules.

What is Minerva-to Minerva?

Minerva-to-Minerva is a support initiative created to assist Minervianers wherever possible. Its goal is to ensure that everyone in our community has the chance to grow and reach their full potential without being held back by challenges such as food insecurity or limited access to sanitary and hygiene products. One of the ways we offer support is through our care-cupboard – a stocked cupboard of food and toiletries that any Minervianer can use anonymously when they need it. We can also help by sponsoring event tickets and connecting students with contacts for longer-term assistance.

If you are able to, please bring at least one of the following items so we can restock the cupboard:

- Beans | Tin fish | Tuna | Rice | Noodles | Cup a soup | Teabags | Sugar | Oats | Cereal | Pads | Tampons | Bar soap | Toothpaste

Am I allowed to cook at res?

You are allowed to cook for yourself. However, you are NOT allowed to have spiral plates. You can use the induction plates placed at the kitchenettes but ensure you have suitable cookware. You can look at the back of your pot packaging for a coiled wire or magnetic loop icon to ensure that it is suitable cookware.

HOUSE SONG:

Hier in die hart van boskampus, pryk trots die Griekse godin.

(Here in the heart of campus, the Greek goddess stands proud)

Waar almal kan sien dat ons die huis dien in wysheid, skoonheid en kunste.

(Where everyone can see that we serve the house in wisdom, beauty and art.)

'n Dankbare gees, 'n eer om te wees, die lede van Minerva.

(A thankful spirit, an honour to be, the members of Minerva)

Minerva Sibanye

(Minerva, we are one)

Sakha uxolo nothando

(We build peace and love)

Sibumbene sibanye

(We are united, we are one)

iMinerva likhaya

(Minerva, our home)

All of us together standing here, we form a mighty union, unable to be broken, by anyone at all. Minerva we want you, to be wanting us
